

SIMPLY POWERFUL.

Increased Stock Holding Capability

Reich Drive Systems was established in the UK in 2014. In the subsequent 8 trading years, led by General Manager, David Proud, the company has enjoyed continual year on year growth. That growth has now outgrown the existing storage space at their Stockport warehouse and has led to the opening of a second warehouse, in very close proximity to their Coronation Street UK Headquarters.

This new-build additional facility has been immediately put to use as REICH received 63 pallets the very next day after they received they keys!

Reich's investment in stock will help support their existing customers' production schedules as well as servicing the aftermarket spares requirement. As one of the largest coupling stockholders in the UK, REICH also represents an attractive supply chain option when on-boarding new customers who were experiencing lead time issues with their previous coupling supplier.

David Proud commented " We pride ourselves on having a 100% on time delivery to our major OEM's , having the extra stock ensures we are not affected by the current restraints on the supply chain and in turn our customers can be assured that we have enough stock to cover any upturn in demand at a moment's notice"
